

Suspicion is Not Proof. When Mrs. Adams told me that she had picked up Henry's whip ribbon Wednesday morning I said nothing, but thought that Henry must have driven over Tuesday evening after all, and even come up into the yard, although the house was shut up and I in bed, to get a little nearer to me, I felt conscience stricken because I could not help a thrill of happiness, when my father lay dead in the house.

My father was buried as privately and quietly as we could bring it about. But it was a terrible ordeal. Meantime word came from Vermont that Rufus Bennett had been arrested on his farm, He was perfectly willing to come back with the officers, and, indeed, had not the slightest omeers, and, indeed, had not the singnest trouble in proving that he was at his home in Vermont when the murder took place. He proved by several witnesses that he was out of the state long before my father and I sat on the step together that evening, and that he proceeded directly to his home as fast as the train and stage coach could carry him.

The screwdriver with which the deed was supposed to have been committed was found by the neighbor from whom it had been borrowed in his wife's bureau drawer. It had been returned, and she had used it to put up a picture hook in her chamber. Ben-nett was discharged and returned to Ver-

I Was Arrested.

Then Mrs. Adams told of her finding the rhen Mrs. Adams told of her infaing the yellow ribbon from Henry Eills' whip, and he was arrested, since he was held to have a motive for putting my father out of the world. Father's opposition to our marriage was well known, and Henry was suspected the way her the way to be supported. also of having had an eye to his money. It was found, indeed, that my father had more money than I had known myself.

Henry owned to having driven into our yard that night, and to having missed the ribbon from his whip on his return; but one of the hostlers in the livery stable in Digby, where he kept his horse and buggy, came forward and testified to finding the yellow ribbon in the acreage account in the savings areas that Tuesday. rorward and testified to finding the yellow ribbon in the carriage room that Tuesday night before Henry returned from his drive. There were two yellow ribbons in evidence, therefore, and the one produced by the hostler seemed to fit Henry's whipstock the more exactly.

Moreover, nearly the exact minute of the murder was claimed to be proved by the murder was claimed to be proved by the post-mortem examination; and by the tespost-mortem examination; and by the testimony of the stablemen as to the hour of Henry's return and the speed of his horse he was further cleared of suspicion; for if the opinion of the medical experts was correct, Henry must have returned to the livery stable too soon to have committed the murder.

He was discharged, at any rate, although

There was no one else left to accuse. There must be a motive for the murder; I was the only person left with a motive. Unlike the only person left with a motive. Unlike the others, who were discharged after preliminary examination, I was held to the grand jury and taken to Dedham, where I spent four weeks in jail awaiting the meeting of the grand jury.

Neither at the preliminary examination nor before the grand jury was I allowed to make the full and frank statement that I am making here. I was told simply to answer the questions that were put to me, and to volunteer nothing, and I obeyed.

I know nothing about law. I wished to do the best I could—to act in the wisest manner, for Henry's sake and my own. I said nothing about the green silk dress. They searched the house for all manner of things, at the time of my arrest, but the of things, at the time of my arrest, but the dress was not there—it was in Phoebe Dole's dye kettle. She had come over after it herself one day when I was picking beans in the garden, and had taken it out of the closet. She brought it back herself, and told me this, after I had returned from Dedham Dedham.

"I thought I'd get it and surprise you," said she. "It's taken a beautiful black."
She gave me a strange look, half as if she would see into my very soul, in spite

I Do Not Care for Myself.

of me, half as if she were in terror of what she would see there, as she spoke. I do not know just what Phoebe Dole's look meant. There may have been a stain left on that dress after all, and she may have

I suppose if it had not been for that flour paste which I had learned to make I should have been hung for the murder of my own father. As it was, the grand fury found no bill against me, because there was absolutely no evidence to convict me; and I came home a free woman, and if people were condemned for their motives, would there be enough hangmen in the world? in the world?

They found no weapon with which I They found no weapon with which I could have done the deed. They found no blood stains on my clothes. The one thing which told against me, aside from my ever-present motive, was the fact that on that morning after the murder the doors and windows were fastened. My volunteering that information had, of course, weakened its force as against mymelf.

frustrated in his designs, but had lost heart at the last and allowed me to escape, and then somehow fied himself. Some held that he had intended to force me to reveal the whereabouts of father's money, but his courage had failed him.

Father had quite a sum in a hiding place which only he and I knew. But no search for money had been made, so far as any one could see—not a bureau drawer had been disturbed, and father's gold watch was ticking peacefully under his pillow; even his wallet in his vest pocket had not been opened. There was a small roll of been opened. There was a small roll of bank notes in it, and some change; fa-ther never carried much money. I sup-pose if father's wallet and watch had been taken I should not have been suspected at

I was discharged, as I have said, from I was discharged, as I have said, from lack of evidence, and have returned to my home, free, indeed, but with this awful burden of suspicion upon my shoulders. That brings me up to the present day. I returned yesterday evening. This evening Henry Ellis has been over to see me; he will not come again, for I have forbidden him to do so. This is what I said to him: "I know you are innecent you know." will not come again, for I have torbidden him to do so. This is what I said to him:

"I know you are innocent, you know I am innocent. To all the world we are under suspicion—I more than you, but we are both under suspicion. If we are known to be together that suspicion is increased for both of us. I do not care for myself, but I do care for you. Separated from me, the stigma attached to you will soon fade away, especially if you should marry elsewhere."

elsewhere."
Then Henry interrupted me. "I will never marry elsewhere!" said he. never marry elsewhere!" said he. I could not help being glad that he said I could not help being glad that he said it, but I was firm.
"If you should see some good woman whom you can love, it will be better for you to marry elsewhere." said I.
"I never will!" he said again. He put his arms around me, but I had strength to much him gway. his arms around me, but I had strength to push him away.

"You never need, if I succeed in what I undertake, before you meet the other," said I. I began to think he had not cared for that pretty girl who boarded in the for that pretty girl who boarded in the same house, after all.

"What is that?" he said. "What are you going to undertake?"

"To find my father's murderer," said I. Henry gave me a strange look; then, before I could stop him, he took me fast in his arms and kissed my forehead.

"As God is my witness, Sarah, I believe in your innocence," he said. And from that minute I have felt sustained and fully confident of my power to do what I have undertaken.

that minute I have felt sustained and fully confident of my power to do what I have undertaken.

My father's murderer I will find. Tomorrow I begin my search. I shall first make an exhaustive examination of the house, such as no officer in the case has yet made, in the hope of finding a clue. Every room I propose to divide into square yards, by line and measure, and every one of those square yards I will study as if it were a problem in algebra.

I have a theory that it is impossible for any human being to enter any house and commit in it a deed of this kind and not leave behind traces which are as the known quantities in an algebraic equation to those who can use them.

There is a chance that I shall not be quite unaided. Henry has promised not to come again until I bid him, but he is to send a detective here from Boston—one come again until I bid him, but he is to send a detective here from Boston—one whom he knows. In fact, the man is a cousin of his, or else there would be small hope of our securing him, even if I were to offer him a large price.

The man has been remarkably successful in several cases, but his health is not good; the work is a severe strain upon his nerves, and he is not driven to it by any lack of money. The physicians have forbidden him to undertake any new case, for a year at least, but Henry is confident that we may rely upon him for this. I will now lay this astide and go to bed. Tomorrow is Wednesday; my father will have been dead seven weeks. Tomorrow have been dead seven weeks. Tomorrow morning I commence the work, in which if it be in human power, aided by a high er wisdom, I shall succeed. (To be continued.)

BIT OF THIEVES' SLANG.

Letter Written by a Chicago Crook to One of His Pals.

Full-dress suits and patent leather shoes do not always carry with them the ability suspicion still clung to him. Many people do not always carry with them the ability believe now in his guilt—those who do not believe in mine; and some believe we were a missive from the pen of William Swift, Pherson's house Saturday, and, after taking a bath, stole a dress suit, patent leather shoes, silk hat, $70 and other things. When arrested Swift gave a fellow prisoner a letter, which he asked him to mail. The police got possession of the letter, and

The police got possession of the letter, and now are almost certain Swift is a member of a gang of thieves who have been robbing houses on the South Side. The letter shows that Swift has a splendid vocabulary of thieves' slang. Following is a copy of the note as he wrote it:

"Chicago, July 29, 1895.

Dear Billy: I hope this letter will find you in health. tell dempsey the west is snyde, say billy I think I am ditched this time. I think I am good for a five spot, but I may get a tip yet if j 212 and b I come to the front. tell edwards not spend any doe as I don't think a mouthpiece will do me any good this time. you see the crocker's reams did not fit me and the bull tumbled to the man. tell dempsey to be careful how he scribes, address your stiff as william swift, care of the county jail, yours, shorty.

When Swift wrote "I think I am ditched liam swift, care of the county jail, yours, shorty.

When Swift wrote "i think i am ditched this time," "I think i am good for a five spot," he meant he thought the police had conclusive evidence to convict him and he would get a five years' sentence.

j 212 and b I are two bondsmen.

Swift has not a good opinion of the West and calls it snyde. "Doe" is money. "Mouthplece" is meant for lawyer, and the prisoner thinks one would be of no assistance to him.

prisoner thinks one would be of no assist-ance to him.

The "crocker" is the victim, and by "reams" is meant clothing, which Swift says the policeman who arrested him, and whom he calls "the bull," saw did not fit him. "Stiff" is short for companion. Swift is an ex-convict, and fears to be sentenced under the habitual criminal act.

The Origin of Billiards. From the London Telegraph.

In a letter dated 1750, which has been presented to the Bibliotheque Nationale, in Paris, a highly ingenious account is given of the origin of billiards. The writer declares that billiards were invented in England about the middle of the sixteenth century by a pawnbroker named Bill Kew. This man, it is alleged, used his leisure moments to play on his counter with the three brass balls which he hung up as a sign. For a cue he had a yard measure, whence the term Bill-yard, or Bill's yard, corrupted into billiards. This etymology will hardly satisfy Mr. Skeat, but it is at least curious as showing to what length the speculative etymologists are apt to go. The most astonishing thing about it, however, is the fact that it is the work of a Frenchman, who might have seen at a glance that billiards is merely a corruption of his own word "billiard." from "bille," a ball, the termination "ard" being perfectly regular and natural in the composition of a word intended to designate the table upon which the balls are used.

Gone to Atlanta.

Commissioners Morrison and Clements of the interstate commerce commission left vesterday for Atlanta, Ga., where, beginning today, they will hear cases brought by the state railroad commission of Georgia, involving the reasonableness of rates on peaches from Georgia points to New York and other northeastern cities. The Georgia commissioners make the general charge that the rate is too high and seek to secure a reduction. From Atlanta Messrs.

Then, too, some held that I might have been mistaken in my terror and excitement, and there was a theory, advanced by a few, that the murderer had medited making me also a victim, and had locked the doors that he might not be that the rate is too high and seek to secure a reduction. From Atlanta Messrs. Morison and Clements will proceed to Piedmont, Ala., where they will hear two cases brought by the mayor of that city and others, alleging discrimination in rates against Piedmont and in favor of Anniston, Ala.

LATE SPORTING NEWS ing than the Defender, and is probably the faster vessel of the two."

WON FROM BALTIMORE.

the Orioles.

The Serators Make It Very Lively for The Baltimores were in good fighting condition yesterday, with a number one pitcher, but somehow the Senators piled up the runs. The Senators did not seem to pay any attention to Hoffer's twists and curves. It was an interesting game, especially to the "rooters" for the Senators. They had a chance to do a good deal of triumphant yelling and they did not neglect their opportunity. Washington be-gan scoring in the first inning and might have kept on scoring if the game had not been called at the end of the eighth inning because of darkness. The score was as BALTIMORE.

Totals... 12 14 24 14 1 Totals.... 5 10*23 11 1 Vashington...... 0 1 1 0 2 4 0 4—12 altimore..... 0 0 0 0 3 0 2 0— 5 Washington. 0 1 1 0 2 4 0 4-12
Baltimore. 0 0 0 0 3 0 2 0-5
Earned runs-Washington, 9; Baltimore, 1. Twobase hits-Clarke, Hoffer, Jennings. Three-base hitsCartwright, Joyce, Abbey. Home runs-Abbey, Joyce. Stolen bases-Hoffer, Crooks, McGuire, Cartwright. Sacrifice hit-Brodle. Double play-Schelbeck and Cartwright. First base on balls-Off Boyd,
3; off Hoffer, 6. Hit by pitched ball-Crooks, Cartwright, Jennings, Kelly, McGuire. Left on basesWashington, 7; Baltimore, 4. Struck out-By Boyd, 1; by Hoffer, 1. Passed balls-Clarke, 3. Time of game-2:30. Umpire-Keefe. Attendance-2,800.

Other League Games. At Pittsburg. Pitchers. R.H.E.
St. Louis. Ehret. 7 11 2
Pittsburg Gardner. 4 8 4 At Boston. Philadelphia At Cleveland. Louisville At New York. Cincinnati-Chicago game postponed.

The League Record. Standing of the clubs August 6, 1894: | Clubs. W. L. P.C. | Clubs. W. L. P.C. |
Boston. 55 30 647	Brooklyn. 43 39 524
Baltimore. 52 30 634	Cluchunati. 40 45 471
New York. 53 32 624	Chicago. 38 47 447
New York. 53 55 78 St. Louis. 37 53 411
Plitsburg. 46 40 535	Louisville. 29 59 30
Philadelphia. 43 38 531	Washington. 25 60 294

Washington at New York. Baltimore at Philadelphia. Brooklyn at Boston. St. Louis at Pittsburg. Louisville at Cleveland. Cincinnati at Chicago.

RATHER ONE-SIDED.

The pension office nine had but little difficulty in defeating the team from the Post Office Department yesterday at Capitol Park. This makes three straight victories for Capt. Jeager's men in the new Independent League.

It was a one-sided affair from start to finish, as the P. O. D.'s lack a few men termed ball players. They tried three pitchers yesterday, and all were batted very hard. Their infield was weak, especially at second, but on the other side it was just the opposite, with one exception. Ellis was put on third, but will have to have a little more practice before he returns to that bag. The "Pony" battery-Wright and Raab-was the winning battery, and they did things up in fine style. Wright's slow curves can fool most any of Hem.

Bishop and Farral were the only ones who could hit the ball for the P. O. D.'s, the former making a two-base hit and a clean home run over left-field fence, which scored three of their five runs.

scored three of their five runs.

For the Pensioners Raab did the best work with the stick, making four hits, two of which were three-baggers.

The Y. M. C. A. team is about the only one that gives the pension office nine any trouble, and they make them play hard for victory. They will play today at Capitol Park. Morrison and Carr will be the battery for the Y. M. C. A. and Wright and Raab for the Pensioners.

The score:

PENSION OFFICE. R.H.O.A.E. P. O. DEPT. R.H.O.A.E Totals... 21 14*19 13 7 Totals.... 5 7 21 10 8 *Thompson called out. Sprigman out for interfering with batted ball.

Post Office Department..... 0 0 8 0 0 2 0 — 5
Two-base hits—Beall, Bishop. Three-hase hits—
Raab (2), Harris. Home run,—Bishop. Stolen bases—Raab (2), Ellis, Gray, McKee, Farrell (2), Sprigman (2), De Montreville (2). Left on bases—Pension Office, 7: Post Office Department, 4. Double play—O'Connell to Sprigman to Farrell. Struck out—By O'Connell, 2; by McKee, 1; by Thompson, 2; by Wright, 1. Fassed balls—Raab, 3; Bishop, 2; Bases on balls—Off O'Connell, 6; off McKee, 1; off Thompson, 2; off Wright, 5. Time of game—2 hours. Unpires—Messrs. Cassavant and McFadden.

DEFENDER WINS AGAIN.

Was Never Headed After Once Passing the Vigilant.

The Defender defeated the Vigilant yesterday over a 35 1-4-mile course from Cottage City, Martha's Vineyard, to Newport, the race being an event in the cruise of the New York Yacht Club. The sea was smooth and the wind varied in velocity from ten to fifteen miles an hour. For twenty miles down to the Vineyard Sound lightship it was a dead beat to windward, and the Defender beat the Vigilant by about five minutes forty-slx seconds, both about live minutes forty-six seconds, both yachts carrying club topsalls and baby jib-topsalls. On the stretch thence to Newport, with sheets eased a little, the Defender gained enough to make her elapsed time from start to finish nine minutes nine seconds better than Vigilant's. The Jubilee also started, but with working topsalls only, and Vigilant beat her in ten minutes forty-nine seconds. The official time is:

Start. Finish. Elapsed Time. 4:00:00 4:18:09 Defender ...11:55:40 4:04:40 Vigilant11:55:34 4:13:43 Jubilee11:55:32 4:24:80 4:28:58

THE CUP IN DANGER.

Defender Has Not Shown Speed Enough.

from the New York Herald. "Unless the Defender shows a very marked improvement over her recent performances the Valkyrie will take the America's cup back to England."

So says Mr. Lewis Nixon, formerly naval constructor in the United States navy, designer of the battle ships Indiana and Massachusetts and other important vessels, and now shipbuilder at the Crescent shippard at Elizabethport, N. J.

Mr. Nixon's experience as a designer has not been limited to ships of war, and his cpinion concerning yachts is that of an exert of the first quality. I visited him at his shipyard yesterday and he gave me his reasons for believing that the Defender could hardly hope to beat the Valkyrie, as "In the matches between the new Val-"In the matches between the new Valkyrie and the Britannia the former has easily proven herself superior to the latter, and probably the Valkyrie's victories would have been greater had Lord Dunraven desired to show the best speed of the new challenger. On the other hand, in the matches between the Defender and the Vigilant, the former has in several instances barely escaped defeat, and on no occasion has there been any reason to suppose that the Defender has failed to do her best.

st. "Inasmuch as the Britannia was almost invariably successful in her matches with the Vigilant, it naturally follows that the Valkyrie has made a better relative show-brodt Among the Winners. The international chess congress was opened at Brassein Institute, at Hastings, England, yesterday. The players were welcomed by the mayor? The players drew lots, and the pairing for the first round of the tournament was antibunced as follows: Table 1-Mason vs. Tarrasch. Table 2-Tschigorin vs. Pillsbury, Table 3-Lasker vs. Marco. Table 4-Schiffers vs. Gunsberg. Table 5-Steinitz vs. Vergani. Table 6-Tinsley vs. Mieses. Table 7-Albin vs. Bird. Table 8-Burn vs. Bardeleben, Table 9-Teichmann vs. Walbrock Table 10-S-lech-ter vs. Pollock. Table 11-Janowski vs.

CHESS MASTERS MEET. Tachigorin, Lasker, Steinitz and Wal-

The games resulted as follows: Mason beat Tarrasch by time limit after Tschigorin beat Pillsbury in a king knight's gambit after fifty-one moves.

Lasker beat Marco in a P-Q4 opening after twenty-nine moves.
Schiffers beat Gunsberg in a 4Kt's game after thirty-six moves.
Steinitz beat Vergani in a French defense after forty moves.

Mieses beat Tinsley after thirty-three moves in a P—Q4 opening.

Bardeleben beat Burn in a P—Q4 opening ifter forty moves.

Bird beat Albin in a Zukertort opening after fifty-three moves. Walbrodt beat Teichmann in a Vienna game after fifty moves.

Schlechter and Pollock drew Ruy Lopez after forty moves.
Janowski and Blackburne adjourned their

The McMillan-Raedy Contest.

A most interesting event in puglistic circles will take place tonight in the arena of the Eureka Athletic Club. It will be a contest for the middleweight championship of the District of Columbia between Billy McMillan, who recently gained that title by the defeat of Mike Raedy, and Pat Raedy, his brother, who aspires to gain that title. They have both trained faithfully and are They have both trained faithfully and are reported to be in prime condition. Both have good records in the ring and may confidently be expected to put up a good fight. As the winner will receive a big purse and the contestants have an old score to settle, it stands to reason that neither will give in without a hard struggle. Considerable money is up on the leattle gle. battle.

Foxhall Keene's Success. At the Hurst Park, England, bank holiday meeting yesterday the Bank Holiday Handicap of 300 sovereigns was won by Mr Foxhall Keene's Bohemond. Lord Hindlip's Powick was second and Mrs. Eyris, Barsac third. Mr. Foxhall Keene's Dimity ran-second in the race for the Housiow two-year-old plate of 103 sovereigns. Mr. T. Phillips' McAlpine won and April Fool was Atlantic Association Games.

Pittsburg, Scranton, Pa., and Washington athletes are anxious to secure the Atlantic division championship games of the Amateur Athletic Union for their cities. The A lantic embraces all territory south of New York and east of the Ohio river.

There will be about fourteen field and prizes are given for each event. The first is a gold medal valued at $35; second, a silver medal valued at $25; third, a bronze medal valued at $15. There are no hand-icaps, all the contests being from scratch. Harry McMillan of Philadelphia is presi-dent and John J. Kelly, jr., of Woodberry, N. J., is secretary of the association.

Bont Race at Indianapolis.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., August 6.-An eight-oared shell crew from the Vesper Boat Club of the Schuylkill navy, is in training for a race with the University of Pennsylvania eight, at Indianapolis, Ind., on August 17. Citizens of that city have subscribed $2,000 for such a contest, and in addition to paying the expenses of the contesting crews, the members of the winning crew will be awarded solid gold medals, valued at $100 each.

Britannia Had No Rival.

COWES, August 6.-In the race for the queen's cup, in the regatta of the Royal Yacht squadron today, course from Cowes round the Bullock Patch buoy, back to the south of Brambles, round a flagboat off Yarmouth and return to Cowes, a total distance of about fifty miles, Britannia had

THE SEGAR ROUNTY CASES

Ex-Senator Manderson Will Take Part in the Hearing.

Ex-Senator Manderson of Nebraska has arrived here to take part in the hearing before Controller Bowler tomorrow as to the constitutionality of the law for the payment of the sugar bounty. Senators Caffery and Blanchard of Louisiana are also here, and Judge Simmons of New Orleans is expected. Senator Manderson said last night: "The beet sugar industry is very extensive in Nebraska, and when this question was raised by the controller it was of such importance to our industry that I readily consented to come here and argue the case. The position to be presented is simply this: That Congress and the President are the judges in the first instance of the constitutionality of a law. They have passed on the question and have found no objection. The only other authority that can pass upon the question of constitutionality is the Supreme Court of the United States after the subject has reached it through the subordinate courts. There is abundance of authority to support this position, and not a single authority against it." leans is expected. Senator Manderson said

Nebraska Freight Cases.

The cases known as the Nebraska maximum freight rate cases, which have occupied a prominent place in the court proceedings in Nebraska for the past few years, have at last reached the United States Su-preme Court and been docketed there. There are three of the cases, one against each of the principal railroads of the state, and one brought in the name of the transportation board of the state. The cases come to the Supreme Court on appeal, taken by the board from the United States circuit court for the Nebraska district. for the Nebraska district.

Tents for the Colored Refugees. Surgeon General Wyman of the marine hospital service has ordered that a number of tents be sent from the detention camp at Waynesville, Ga., to Eagle Pass, Texas, for use by the colored refugee smallpox patients in quarantine at the latter place. The federal authorities are also supplying guards through the customs service to keep the negroes from scattering and spreading the disease. Advices received by Dr. Wyman indicate that eleven new cases have developed since Saturday, making fifty-six in all. There have been three deaths.

An American Factory Won. Advices received at the Agricultural Department announce that a manufactory at Anniston, Ala., has secured the contract for equipping the city of Tokio, Japan, with water pipes. Manufactories in En gland, Germany, Belgium and other Eu-ropean countries competed in the bidding, but the Alabama contractors secured the job. The water pipes are shipped to Tokio via Liverpool.

A New Ten-Dollar Counterfeit.

A new counterfeit $10 national bank not on the First National Bank of Detroit has been discovered by the secret service bureau. The notes are photographic produc tions, and are printed on two pieces of pa-per pasted together, between which red silk threads are placed. The numbering and seals have been colored by brush. The printing of the notes is so badly blurred that discrepancies between them and the genuine cannot be shown; the notes bear the large scalloped seal printed in dark red instead of chocolate. tions, and are printed on two pieces of pa-

An Explosion.

The explosion of a gasoline stove in the furniture store of M. Rosenberg, 1015 New York avenue, resulted in the sounding of an alarm of fire from box 137 about 2 o'clock p.m. yesterday. When the fire department reached the store the flames had been extinguished and no damage had been TOO FREE WITH HIS PISTOL.

Special Policeman Who Caused Excitement at a Railroad Station. There was an exciting scene under the car shed at the Baltimore and Ohio depot last night between 9 and 10 o'clock. Special Officer John M. Green, colored, had some trouble with William Gooding, a colored excursionist. Green drew his revolver and fired two shots. There was a large crowd about the depot at the time, and it is considered remarkable that no one was hurt by the shots. Green is in the employ of the railroad company, and Juring the day he had been at Harper's Ferry, attending a Sunday school picnic.
It is said that he had some trouble with

It is said that he had some trouble with Gooding at Harper's Ferry, and when the train reached the depot and the excursionists were about to leave it, he made an attempt to arrest Gooding.

Gooding naturally resisted arrest, for if he had done anything at Harper's Ferry he knew he could not be punished for it here.

When he got away from Green and started to leave the depot the colored special policeman drew his pistol and fired two shots. As already stated, no one was injured by the bullets, but the report of the pistol shots caused some excitement, and there came near being a panic.

Precinct Detective Hartigan of the sixth

Precinct Detective Hartigan of the sixth precirct was near at hand, and, not knowing the cause of the shooting, he caught the man (Gooding) whom Green was pursuirg. When Green came up he was anxious to take charge of the man and settle the trouble right there. But Officer Hartigan thought that Green's conduct in Hartigan thought that Green's conduct in firing the shots was more serious than anything the other man may have done, and he took both Green and Gooding to the station and locked them up.

Green, who the police say was under the irfluence of liquor, charged Gooding with assault, and Officer Hartigan charged the colored railroad officer with having disthe colored railroad officer with having dis-charged his pistol in violation of law. This morning Gooding was tried in Judge Mills' court on a charge of assault, and the Milis court on a charge of assault, and the charge was dismissed.

Green appeared in Judge Scott's court on the charge of discharging his pistol in violation of law, and he entered a plea of guilty. His personal bonds were taken.

COFFEE HOUSE ON WHEELS.

The First Wagon Earned Over $1,000 by Sapplying 10-Cent Meals.

From an Exchange.

The Wayside Inn is the name of handsome new luncheon wagon which the Church Temperance Society brought to New York last week to minister to the hungry and thirsty during the hours of the day and night. It stands in Herald Square, where the old one, the Owl, has stood for a year. The Owl has been removed to 6th avenue, opposite Bryant Park, in which busy neighborhood it will continue the work it began two years ago, when it was

Not only in its outward appearance, but in its interior fittings the new wagon is an improvement on the old. It was built an improvement on the old. It was built in Worcester, Mass., at a cost of $1,000, and contains everything that is modern and useful in a "coffee house on wheels." The original wagon, now about to retire to 6th avenue, was the first of the kind to be introduced to New York. It cost $550, the money for its purchase having been raised through the efforts of the members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church Temperance Society. Its immediate mission was to counteract the influence of the all-night bar rooms then about to be licensed. It was mustered into service only as a night wagon, but it finally became so as a night wagon, but it finally became so as a night wagon, but it finally became so successful in meeting the requirements of the public that it was kept open in the day time as well. Its name, the Owl, is really a misnomer, under the existing conditions, but it will still be retained.

It became apparent some months ago that the profits of the business of the Owl would soon warrant the society in buying would soon warrant the society in buying would soon warrant the society in buying another similar wagon, for it was the first intention of the originators of the scheme to place the wagons in different parts of the city as fast as possible. During the first year the wagon was not self-sustaining, but in 1894 there were supplied 67,600 10 cent meals, which left a profit of $1,103, the major part of which has been used in the purchase of the new wagon.

A Boy Lassoes a Puma

From the St. Louis Globe Democrat. A fifteen-year-old boy named Juan Romero, at 'the Blythe ranche. the Colorado river, Arizona, lassoed and captured a mountain lion. He was out with his lariat looking for a horse, when a mountain lion attacked his dog. He had no weapon but the rope, and, throwing it, lassoed the lion around the neck. Hauling it tight, it began to choke the infuriated animal, which began to jump and struggle to get away, the boy all the time hauling with all his might on the lariat. In one of the wild plunges made by the lion, he jumped into the air, coming down behind a stout mesquite bush, but not low enough so that he could touch the ground. The boy held on to his end, with the lion suspended in the air, until the fierce brute was dead, having hanged himself. The boy took off the skin, which measures nine feet from the tip of the nose to the end of the tail.

As a result of the efforts on the part of the Catholics at Chautauqua, N. Y., Chancellor Vincent has granted the use of the chapel for Catholic services on Sunday mornings until such time as they may be enabled to construct a chapel of their own. Taking advantage of this opportunity, Father Gibbons of Jamestown Sunday morning held the first Catholic service ever held at Chautauqua.

Capt. Slocum Arrives Safely.

The 40-foot sloop Spray, Capt. Joshus Slocum, which sailed from East Boston. Mass., on April 24, and from Gloucester on May 8, for Gibraltar, on a voyage around the world, has arrived at Gibraltar, after a voyage of eighty-nine days from Glouces-ter, Mass. During the latter part of his journey Capt. Slocum met with heavy gales.

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50 cent bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, M.Y.

THE PENNSYLVANIA FIGHT.

Resolutions Denouncing Cameron-Anti-Quay Delegates. At a meeting of the republicans of the twenty-eighth ward, Philadelphia, last night resolutions were adopted supporting the state and municipal administrations and setting forth that "the vital issue in the pending contest is whether J. Donald Cameron will be re-elected to the United States Senate. He has deserted the ranks of all the trusted republican leaders in the Senate, and in direct and flagrant violation of his most sacred pledges he was instrumental in defeating the great republican measure for the protection of federa elections,"

The republican district convention for the republican district convention of state delegates was held at election of state delegates was held at Wilkesbarre yesterday. In the first, second, third, fourth and sixth districts Hastings men were elected. In the fifth a Quay man was chosen. The delegation now stands eight for Hastings and one for Open.

Quay.

William H. Lynch and C. H. Backensloe were elected delegates to the coming republican state convention, at Harrisburg last night, by the city convention. They are uninstructed, but will support Senator Quay for the chairmanship of the state committee. committee.

The republicans of Elk-county, in con

The republicans of Elk county, in convention at Ridgeway, Pa., yesterday, elected George C. Darling as the delegate to the state convention, and instructed him to vote for Senator Quay as state chairman. Four of Le thirty-nine delegates bolted and organized another convention, nominating a Hastings delegate.

BLAND FULL OF FIGHT.

"Silver Dick" Bland arrived at Pertle

Preparing for the Missouri Conven-tion Today.

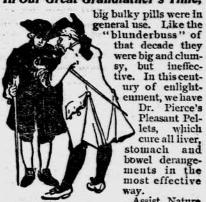

Springs, Mo., yesterday to lead the forces and frame the resolutions which will be adopted by the democratic silver convention today. Bland has thrown down the gauntlet to the anti-silver element in the democratic central committee and may re-sult in terrible friction if nothing more, Bland had not been on hand an hour be-fore he was out in the emphatic declarafore he was out in the emphatic declara-tion to a few trusted friends that the time has arrived when the silver men should assume control of the party machinery. For publication he refused to talk, but the statement of his declaration of war is correct. It has excited lively comment. This declaration of Bland's is interpreted to mean that he proposes to fight the old committee and endeavor to oust them and secure a rew committee favorable to the secure a new committee favorable to the white metal. Mr. Bland is of the opinion upon which to go to the nation for the in for free and unlimited coinage of silver. German Reverence for Science.

that the convention will conclude its worl that the convention will conclude its work by Wednesday afternoon easily, and that its final results will be most gratifying to the friends of silver, who hold that the ratio of 16 to 1 is the proper basic point upon which to go to the nation for the fight

From the Boston Journal, Electric cars have been prohibited on the road from Berlin to Charlottenburg because they would have to pass the Im-perial Technical Institute, whose delicate scientific experiments would be affected by the current. Science is of less importance here. A similar effect was noticed in the Jefferson Physical Laboratory at Harvard, when the grounds were surrounded ward, when the grounds were surrounded with trolley wires several years ago, but there would probably have been little sympathy expressed for the scientist who would have dared to place the claims of research above the privileges of the general public.

In Our Great Grandfather's Time,

most effective way. Assist Nature a little now and then, with a gentle, cleansing laxative, thereby removing of-fending matter from the stomach and bowels, toning up and invigorating the liver and quickening its tardy action, and you thereby remove the cause of a multitude of distressing diseases, such as headaches, indigestion, or dyspepsia, biliousness, pimples, blotches, eruptions, boils, constipation, piles, fistulas and

If people would pay more attention to properly regulating the action of their bowels, they would have less fre-quent occasion to call for their doctor's services to subdue attacks of dangerous maladies too numerous to mention.

That, of all known agents to accom-plish this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are unequaled, is proven by the fact that once used, they are always in favor. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. Hence, their great popularity, with sufferers from habitual constipation, piles and indigestion. A free sample of the "Pellets," (4 to 7 doses) on trial, is mailed to any address, post-paid, on receipt of name and address on postal card. Address, World's Dispensary Medi-CAL Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

BRIAR PIPE GIVEN AWAY WITH EVERY POUND bale

DUKES for 35 cents

Every pipe stamped DUKES MIXTURE or 2 oz. PACKAGES 5$

Epps's Cocoa.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of a well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage, which may save us many heavy to the flavored to the flav

HOMOEUPATHIC REMEDIES

No matter what the disease is or how many doctors have failed to cure you, ask your druggist for a 25-cent vial of one of Munyon's Cures, and if you are not bene-fited your money will be refunded. This Company puts up A cure for every disease

THE ANIMAL EXTRACTS. Extract of the brain of the ox, for Neryous Prostration, Insomnia, Extract of the Heart, for Func-tional Weakness of the Heart. Extract of the Spinal Cord, for Locomotor Ataxia. CARDINE. MEDULLINE, TESTINE, For Premature Decay.

OVARINE, For Diseases of Women.
THYROLDINE, For Eczema and Impurities of the blood. TESTINE. Dose, 5 drops. P. SOLE OWNERS. Price, $1.25.

Columbia Chemical Co., Send for book. Washington, D. Q. je6-th, s, tutf 1404 FOURTEENTH ST. N.W.

 Clean, Clear and Beautiful. THE RESULT OF USING Pine Blossom Soap.

ing and curative properties. It both pur fies and heals. Indispensable for the tolied

Price 25 Cents, Foster Medicine Co., Baltimore, Md.

9699999999 reductions." We've dropped everythingin price. Cut it way down to a point where there can be no doubt about its being a a bargain. And it's all the "Removal

seasonable stock where the reductions are greatest. You've never heard of Refrigerators Being sold as cheap as we're selling 'em. The best makes, too. You never heard of Baby Carriages

Mattings

But we're not trying to make any money now. We (want to empty this store before it's time for us to move into that new building we're putting up on the corner of 7th and I-just below us.

Credit, as usual. House & Herrmann. 917, 919, 921 and 923 7th St. 636 Mass. Ave.

 Attention!

0999 60999 606

FURS ALTERED AT REDUCED RATES
DURING AUGUST.

SWANSDOWN TRIMMING, 500. YD.

Attention!

Gray. Hair A thing of the past when Nattans' Crystal Discovery is used. Guaranteed to restore gray estaded hair to its natural color in 8 to 10 days—positively not a dye. Stops the hair from falling out, arrests dandroff and makes the nicest dreasing for the hair one can use. No poison. No sediment, No stains. Price, $1. Trial size, 604 KOLB PHARMACY, SOLE AGENTS, 438 THE ST. N.W. Sent, express prepaid, to any part of the country on receipt of price.

How's Your

Sketching Outfit? It may need replenishing, or perhaps you want a new one. In either case, come in and let us supply your wants. We have everything necessary. Colors, Brushes and Blocks for both oil and water color, Easela, Stools, Umbrellas, etc., at prices which are perhaps lower than you have been paying.

Geo. F. Muth & Co., 418 7th St. N.W.,

cressors to Geo. Ryneal, jr. je15-246

Bargains In Long Hair Switches.

$2.50. Formerly $5.00.
$4.50. Formerly $6.50.
$6.50. Formerly $10.50.

ETFirst-class attendance in Hair Dressing.
Shampooling, etc.
Try our "Curlette," for keeping the half

S. HELLER'S,